Cat® Hose Service

Fast. Dependable. Certified Clean.

Maximize machine availability with single part number convenience.

When you need a hose, you usually need it now. While it can be tempting to visit the nearest hose shop, your best bet to get your equipment back into production the fastest – and easiest – is your Cat dealer. Here's why:

In order to build a replacement hose for Cat® equipment, other shops must physically inspect the original. This can take up to 30 minutes before the assembly begins! Cat dealers need only a single part number located on a metal tag on factory-installed hoses. This number identifies all the needed components and build specifications.

If you immediately phone this number to your Cat dealer — or order it online via the Cat PartStore™ System, your dealer usually can have a replacement ready by the time you remove the worn hose and transport it to another shop.

Cat® Hose Service

You also can count on hoses assembled by Cat dealers to perform better and last longer.

Convenience is just one promise you get with your Cat dealer's hose service. You also can count on:

Superior Cat hose products. Cat dealers build hoses from their large inventory of Cat high-, medium- and low-pressure hoses and couplings. These products are designed, built and tested as a system by Caterpillar to exceed industry requirements.

"Certified Crimp." Cat dealers visually and dimensionally check crimps to make sure they meet specifications. Over- and under-crimped hoses can be detrimental to both hose performance and safety.

"Certified Clean." Cat dealers use a state-of-the-art process to remove contaminants created during the cutting and crimping of hoses. If left inside hoses, these contaminants can damage cylinders, pumps and other hydraulic system components. Cat dealers also cap the ends of hoses to help prevent contaminant ingression prior to installation.

Cat Dealers pneumatically clean hoses with foam projectiles to remove contaminants that can damage hydraulic system components.
